

GEOBRIDGE is Moving

December 1, 2009

Due to unprecedented growth during the past 18 months, GEOBRIDGE Corporation will be moving their corporate headquarters to a larger facility on December 10, 2009.

GEOBRIDGE is committed to ensuring that the move process does not create any services interruptions. As such, we have established alternate contact phone numbers for our support and maintenance customers. Support customers can expect to receive a notification this week with instructions for accessing GEOBRIDGE Support during the move.

Additionally, we ask that all of our customers, partners and vendors note our new contact information:
